A DEDICATION TO BRYAN PAHL . . .

In the image of love, faith, happiness and the hope that although life is fragile, it still can be lived to its full potential.

*Do not stand at my grave and weep.
I am not there, I do not sleep.
I am a thousand winds that blow;
I am the diamond glints on snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain;
I am the gentle autumn rain.
When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift upflying rush of quiet birds circling flight.
I am the soft star that shines at night.
Do not stand by my grave and cry'
I am not there, I did not die.*

THE KEY TO LIFE

*The key to life,
Is Jehovah God.
Serve Him true, because,
There is nothing He can't do.*

*He loves me, and He loves you,
No matter what, He will bring you through.*

*He will give you everlasting life,
If you're faithful and think twice,
Because He gave His son as a ransom sacrifice.*

*Man was created through His Son,
So if you want to live forever on,
The work has got to be done.*

*The new system is near,
So dry up your tears,
And shout your cheers,
Then soon it will be here.*

Bryan Pahl, 1983

Incline Village celebrated its 25th anniversary this past summer and this flower image celebrates on the Championship Golf Course.

We are as constantly changing . . .

An inversion covers the village with fog-like clouds, and we have only to drive up to "Turkey Point" to enjoy the sunshine.

We are often told that if we don't like the weather here at Tahoe, we should just wait 15 minutes. We have learned that it's true!

Travel does broaden one! My trip to Japan last summer as a representative of Nevada was the single most exciting experience I have ever had. I learned more about myself and the world around me in a couple of short months than I could have ever imagined possible. Although my host family and I had a language barrier, we managed to communicate and the Japanese people went out of their way to help me. Japanese people love Americans and I often found myself the center of attention. I was the minority for a change. High school in Japan is similar to middle school in the United States from a social standpoint. Teenagers there don't grow up as fast as we do in the states, and I enjoyed not playing the social games that are so much a part of our teenage years in America.

ON THE ROAD . . .

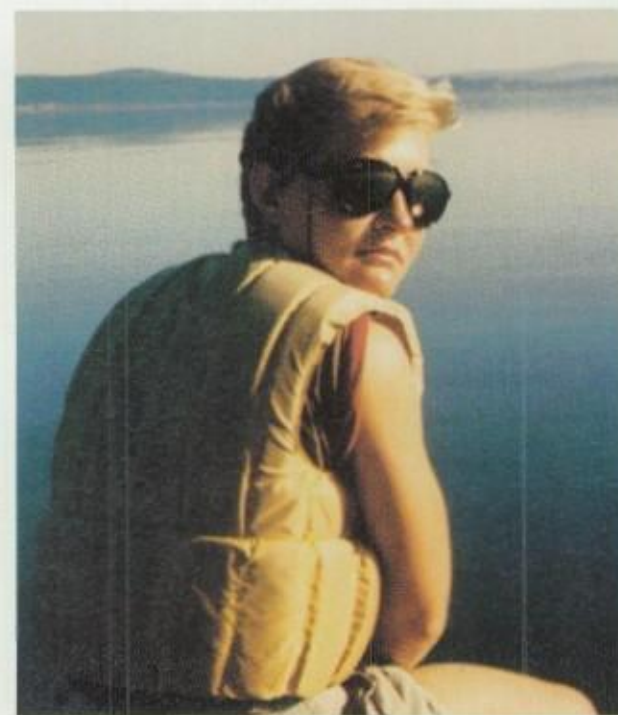

In June of 1986 I embarked upon what was truly an "adventure of a lifetime". I participated on an Outward Bound course which is a combination of physically and emotionally challenging ventures which helped me master many new skills and undergo a rare kind of personal development. Interaction with other participants was a big part of the experience. Activities included sailing, white water canoeing, rock climbing, and hiking the Maine wilderness. One tradition of Outward Bound is a three day solo excursion which I spent on an island. It is difficult to describe my experience in mere words, but for me Outward Bound was a most rewarding and memorable time which I will value throughout my lifetime.

THRU THE AIR . . .

From mid-March until mid-July 1986 I lived in Budu, a village of about 50 people, in Malaysia. My house there was a four room shack-like structure. I bathed from a well and used a community out house. Our village was surrounded by thousands of miles of tropical rain forest and in the back yard there lived a monkey which I named "Monyet". I understood little of what was going on in my school of 700 students bussed from all over the countryside. Scholastically, I learned little, but I did learn a great deal about a way of life different from America. I found that although many people on this earth live a much more primitive lifestyle than we, they will live a happy life if they are left alone and allowed to live their lives without the interference of the more technically advanced nations of the world.

-THE GRADUATES-

*Though the days may be long,
the time spent achieving my goals
makes the hours seem irrelevant,*

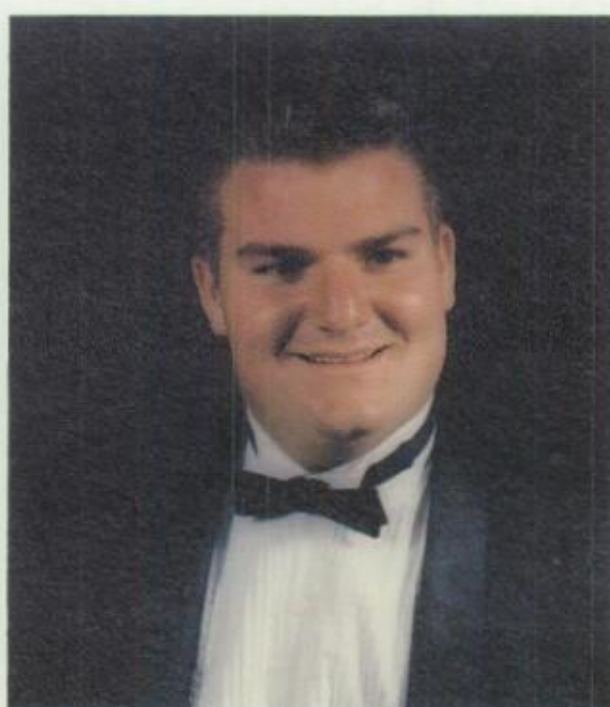

*For my goals are my dreams,
and if I should succeed in these goals,
I will have made my dreams come true -*

And maybe my ultimate goal is to dream with the aspirations of a child,

*Only then will I be able to wish upon the stars
as the greatest achievers in life once did.*

"Oh well!"

I bequeath to my brothers (they know who they are), a few more togas and a few more tardies. I have nothing of value from high school, so all you get is my priceless knowledge from four painstaking years. Well, I guess they weren't that bad. Thanks guys!

I, Julie Smith, leave the following to: Zack and Neil, two more fun years at IHS; Kiersten and Amy, I'll miss you-Good Luck in the future; Michelle P., our fun time camping in Mammoth; Holly, all our good times since third grade . . . you're a great friend! Carie, getting lost on our way back from Reno. Thank you Mom and Dad for putting up with me . . . you helped me make it through all the terrible times.

I, Chris Haughian, AKA Pearl, leave to Rachel the name "Pearl" (I know you can live up to it) and a muzzle for Taira. To Taira, I leave some Paul Mitchell and Junior Mints. To John, I leave a special friendship we share. To Angie, I leave memories of the trouble you can get me into and all the bad habits you've taught me. I LOVE YOU GUYS!

I, Tanya Weingarten, leave to Julie Fadden, Togas, cups are here. A.K.'s wagon, B and J's, our nights of non-remembering, and our friendship. To Lisa, the memory of J.S., R.K. blonde B., L.A. fushia hair, and all those boulevards, blast, VW and UB40. To Melina, coffee and to Lee, the future. To the underclassmen, the tradition of 7-11 and senior bench. My fun continues in my last year at the beloved IHS.

COME
WAY . . .

Rather than leave material things, I leave some thoughts to a few special people. Tiffany, if things were meant to be, they would have been; Rastas, thank you for making me a "tough" chick yeah!"; Mrs. Henshaw, you pointed me in the right direction; Tyler and Thorr, you have given me some beautiful memories which are unforgettable, I love you both. Mom, thank you for making me a better person, I love you more than you will ever know.

I, Thorr Empey, would like to thank my close friends (they know who they are) for helping me kill my braincells throughout my high school years, and I don't think it will stop there, but hey, it's only a brain, right Mr. Campbell? I leave the remains of my brain to Pecker and Speedy cause they'll need it for Mr. Carters class. And I leave my consideration to Joelle.

I, Carie Lynn McCulloch, hereby bequeath to Nick, Amy, Boyd, Kiersten, Julie, Niel, and Zack no more time at IHS.: you've got that coming, but many great memories. Good Luck, I'll miss you! To Kristi and Holly, all of our great times and many memories from the past and all of the memories we'll make in the future. I hope we find the end of the Rainbow. And to IHS-as the last of the four McCulloch girls, I leave a farewell. I'll always remember how much you helped me grow up. I'll miss you!

I, Melissa Beth Pickett, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath my sorrow to anyone who has not had the privilege of growing up with the kind of true friends that I have. To my friends, (I think you know who you are), and my family, I leave the simple message of love and many memories of childhood, puberty, and adolescence.

I, hereby bequeath three more years and a great time at Incline High School to my little brother Danny. Good luck sweetie! To Tara Leigh, my best friend, M.B. and unauthorized parties and an everlasting friendship. To Shan-anagen, a lipless smile, long talks on B2 and all the kindness and support you have given me through our friendship. To my parents, a big hug and huge thanks, I love you so much.

I, Nicole Allen, being of spacey mind and white body, bequeath to Kathy all the shared feelings and fun times. To Kahele, my last brain cell and our freshmen year. Kristin, I leave my friendship. Tina, I leave you my ulcer and all the mirrors I own. To Missy, nothing, you're going with me. To Nicole, I leave you my Pom Poms. To my parents, my gratitude, thanks for caring. To Dominique, I leave you my heart.

I, Christopher (Magoo) McKee, do hereby bequeath my partying abilities to my "brothers". Greg F. and Steve H., may they use it in great health! My DD. Martens go to Greg and my marvelous haircut goes to Steve. To my little brother, Eric, I leave nothing. To Incline, I leave the legacy of Magoo. May no one follow in my footsteps.

Being of sound mind and hopeful body, I leave the following: My love to my parents, a car to my little brother, a full refrigerator to Greg. To the rest of my friends, I leave a lot of luck; They're going to need it!

leave something that no one else seems to understand, "True Love." Tyler, apologies for our clashes. We are very much alike, often too much alike. Graham, friends for a long time BROTHER. To the rest of the school, and especially the Misfit brothers: Life should always be enjoyed so don't dwell in the past or look in the future. Live always in the present.

P.S. Tam and Sue, "What I must do is all that concerns me, not what people think." PS Party Forever!

I bequeath to my brother Eric, good times during football seasons and "Hell Week". To my sister Dawn, my grade point average so that she may play basketball and softball. To Mr. Rumball, I leave you the best of luck coaching softball. To Eric I also leave my term papers and the bedroom. Mr. Rumball, I will always be there to listen to your frustrations after a game or practice. Thank you for encouragement through the last four years. Find a decent manager to replace me.

To all students entering Mr. Carter's fifth period class, I leave all of my tardy excuses. Lance, my job! It's about time you learn what work is. Kahele, beam her up Scotty! Andy, my driving coordination and judgement, a crash helmet might help too. Brent, a life-time friendship and a fuzz-buster so he doesn't have to use his speedometer. Mr. Campbell, all the detention students to shovel five feet of snow off the track. All seniors, your dreams. Tally-Ho!

To Steve Pardee, I leave all those times he never caught me cutting and smoking on and off campus, if you know what I mean. And to Angie Vincent, I leave all the parties and please keep Tami away from me. To Julie, all I can say is, I Love You. And to all my friends, Let's Party!

I, David Nicholas, leave to Jerry, a football team with a percentage; to Buddy, some pants that his wife won't wear; to Jim, the spinning lights of Reno; to Pablo, a "Do not disturb" sign for his love van; to the Rat Pack, some class; to Tim, some taste in Music; to Ribbit, a university far from home; to Doug, a knife and loin cloth; to McCool, some mouthwash; to the cult, a continual sequel and to the stoners, a diploma.

I hereby bequeath to Stephanie: bats, brooms, high-beamed ceilings, endless supplies of Pepsi, case of oysters, raw cookie dough. To Renee: A cleared reputation at Vdeo Stop, a bottle of club soda, a new mattress, Pepsi, room and board in London. To Eric P: Strawberry Daquiris, back massages, new baseball hat, lop-sided bathing suits. To Melinda and Michelle: Choo-choo birthday cakes. To Amber, old baby pictures with braids and bucked teeth, endless supply of lipstick.

I, Randy Herman, being of forgetful mind and lazy body bequeath to Debbie Guenther my apologies for not writing my own will. To Connie Henshaw and the yearbook staff, I want you all to know that I'm devoting the rest of my life to be the best yearbook staff person ever.

I, the Wimpster, bequeath the following: To Tommy, a little height; To Dom, a state rushing title; To Tiger, a full ride hoop scholarship to OSU; To Scar-lip, Tonya. To T.F., some moral values; To Mindi, a lifetime of secrets, a shoulder, and special talks. To Snail, a harem; To Poin, an AK-47; To Bruiser, I leave it all; Our talks, our special friendship and my love. To IHS . . . Adios!

I bequeath to the ones I love the most, tons of love. To Kathy, I leave the more dentist's appointments and a lot of great times. To all my friends in Chicago, the best wishes ever. I give my contacts to Pam with love. To my baby cousins, good luck in the future. P.S. Love you all! To my bigsis, youre the best sister anyone could ever have. To my mom and dad, Thanks, I love you.

I, Robert Harris, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to Brian, "Chris?"; to David and Tiger, "Tiny Bubbles," at McCloud; to Jim, a broken goalie; to Kevin, my job; to Doug, a minority; to Bruce, I leave Gloria; to Mr. J., a Brazilian soccer palyer; to Debbie, a bottle of bullfrog; To Steph, the memory of Marc Platt; and to my brothers and sister, I leave my Volks-wagon and Incline High.

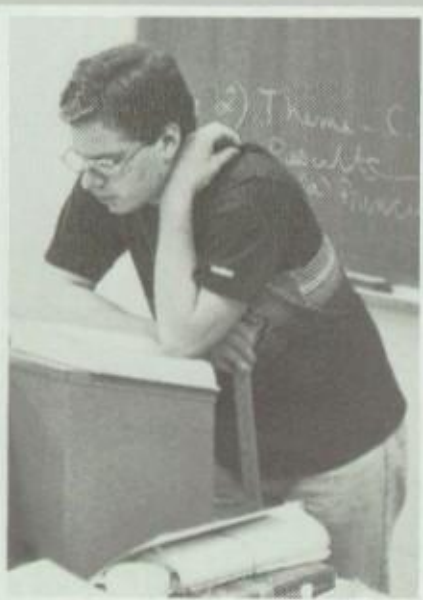

I, Annemarie Schlegelmilch, do hereby bequeath to my best buddy Debbie, all those movies and 2AM talks while munching on Fritos and ice cream. To my little buddy Pooot, all our laughing attacks, music on the bus and play number 4. To Steph, Wimp, Tim, Tonya, Doug, Pick, David, Ribbits, Carie, Merril, Mike, Deborah, Amy, and of course, my college friends- you've made high school life the greatest it could be. And finally, thanks to Mom, Dad, and my brothers . . . for everything.

I hereby bequeath to my adopted little brother, Danny Wheeler, the best three years to come. To Laura, I leave M.B., Turlock, chips and salsa and all the love and luck I have to offer you. To Nan, I leave very expensive shopping sprees, and the ones to come in Paris and London and I also leave the headmaid position open for you in my new hotel in Paris. To the Wheelers, I thank you for all the love and friendship that you have given me these past four years. To my family, I love you and thank you for everything.

I, Tim Trussell, do hereby bequeath: To Nicholas, a years supply of coyote and taco salad; to Tommy, my poker table; to Houston, some scholastic morals; to Stormin Norman, one get out of traffic court free; to Scar-lip, I leave Henshaw's collection of Bob Dylan records; to the senior class girls, a dream date with Dougie; and a warning to next years freshmen girls: WATCH OUT FOR PABLO AND THE LOVE VAN! P.S. To Dave Mattoon, I unknowingly leave this opportunity to get his name in our yearbook.

Being of deranged mind and delapidated body, I leave my beer mug and parties to Jeff Bauman. To IHS, the remainder of my brain for future students to wonder about. To Mike, the bottom "40." To Scott, stealing. To Doug, kill those Commi's! To Jake, unlimited gin. To everyone else, have a beer.

I leave the following things to the following people: To Eric S., (my best friend), fifty million dollars and a boot to the head. To Dave, (Siouxie Man), one more year of school with no friends and the appreciation for the fine art of punk music. To Buckman, a massive raging senior all-nighter '87, a keg of milk, and a lifetime supply of Alvin shows. Katie, (lil' sis), have fun at this great school.

Eric Sanborn: WILL-LESS!

I hereby bequeath to my host family: One year filled with many exciting memories of American lifestyle. To Incline High School: Experience of American student life. To the Volleyball team: Underhand serves, to my Japanese family: Appreciation for helping me come to America.

Shwielle, everlasting friendship, higher love, and you undesirable place among the stars, Krista, a thousand and a thousand words. Lokey, bus talks, tummy talks, a true friend. To Henry, my everlasting love and friendship where ever you may be. To Kevin, a new friendship. Mikey, someone who will always laugh at my jokes. Michelle, my love and respect. To my mom, all my love and respect for you as an individual. I love you all!

Paigey: Our summer at the ranch. Don't forget the corn! Thanks for being there. Trudie: Blat! The Ritz kind, do you have a gun?, your guy troubles. To my parents, I give my love and thanks for supporting me and being there when I needed you. Stacey, I leave you five more years of school and a bottle of aspirin.

I, Nickie Michelle Corneil, bequeath to the faculty of Incline High the archives of well grounded absenteeism. To Mr. Carter, a one time thank you for a long deserved "A". For Mom and Dad, who have given me so much, and who have guided me to get the experience that is needed in the future, I carry deep affection and devotion. To all my family, a big thanks for your tireless support. Especially to you Hanni.

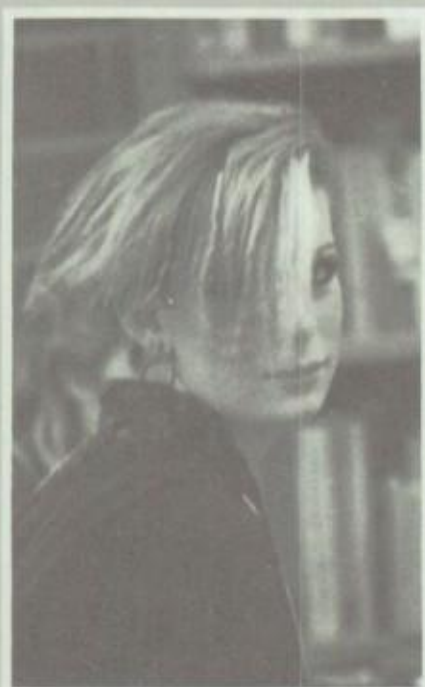

I always wished it would come soon — but now it's come too fast. I want to thank my family for being there when I needed them, and even when I didn't. To my friends — Judy, Soni, Tanya, Jaimne and the Misfits — late nights, Fridays, parties, and all good times I will always remember. They will never end! To Lee, lots of love, and especially to Steve, my love and devotion always.

I, Stephanie, do hereby bequeath the following: To Renee, Caligula, a case of Pepsi, 1 a.m. burritos, and slimy frogs. To Alison, wild women, long talks, years of friendship, Chrises, and comfortable couches. To Merrill and Thorr, Reno flashbacks, fondling fries, and the best hugs. To Doug, love letters, and lots of love to the boys of the class of '88. To all the girls, I love ya, kissy kissy and all the memories of stag homecomings.

I, Ty, being a cool guy yeah, would really like to thank team rasta for everything. To Thorr, I leave nothing because he is already a macho man. I don't know what to leave for Graham. To Dino, we'll see in awhile. And to UCLA, I'll see you on Monday Night Football. I'd especially like to thank Mindi whose friendship is my greatest treasure. Well, see ya later, Mr. Carter. Th-Th-That's all folks.

I, Wendi Whitsett, wish all the luck to Shannon Carré, Rachael Renstein, Jennifer Little, Michelle Sanow and Jody Smallwood for the future. I leave my heart to Jennifer Roberts, my mind to Gitlé and my love to Trisha Flynn. Oh, and to all you Incline Trolls—have some respect for the dead.

I, Erik Houston, being of questionable mind and body do bequeath to Kevin a finished truck and forever. To Jason, a new car. To Klaus, a lifetime supply of Giorgio. To Rob, another Volkswagon. To Boyd, a soccer team. To David, a chemistry laboratory. To Chris, a job. To Steve, a tow truck and a jail. To Bruce, a real ski team. To IHS, memories of the best.

I, Jungle Bunny, being of unsound mind and usually demurgically wholesome boogiewoman mode, do hereby bequeath: to my family, friends and Mrs. A., lots of hugs, kisses, and thanks for the understanding; to Shannon H. (Gianni Versace), a one-way ticket to Florence and plenty of nights staying up listening to Cherrelle; to a certain guy whose identity I shall never disclose (James Dean), I love you forever; to the memory of Sean Meno (neomaxi zoom dweebie) a lifetime supply of green M & M's to build pyramids with; to Mr. Coppin (Lt. Col. Ed), as many of Oviatt's Raiders as he can handle; to the freshmen (future inhabitants of Boogie Wonderland), all my unfinished assignments; and finally to Mr. A. (Buddy), a container of Dep so that he may forever have his anti-gravitational hairdo. To the class of '87, a great future and peace in our lifetime.

I, Jennifer Lynn Nevins, will my car to Sandy and her friends. My quarters to C.B. My rat to M.T. My brains to the accounting class. My money to J.S. so she can retire and not have to put up with people who don't care. And all my happiness and caring to A.C. I wish good luck to all the seniors this year. I hope this year will be the best high school year we've had yet.

First, I'll say how much I liked this cool school. First thing I'd like to leave is to Boyd—Boydly I leave you the hope of a couple more inches. Good Luck! Now Cool-Guy Nick, there's not much I can give you except my keys to my house and a couple of dollars for being my friend. Then Amy, I'll leave you my love and a picture of myself. Love Ya All—Bye-Bye.

I, Katie Jarcik, being of sound mind and body want to say thanks to my friends that have created the best memories that will never be forgotten. To Tyler, I leave Ski Incline Ski School, an everlasting friendship and "The Hand That Rocks the Cradle." To Krista, the meeting in Reno, our talks and dreams and a great friendship. To Jennifer, the Corona Ferret. To Jessica, shared secrets. To Jay, I leave three more years and a good time. To the class of '87, I leave the future. Good Luck!

I, Damon Vincent Danielli, being this my last year of fun, give my pet, the computer, to a lost underclassmen to help him with his homework. I also leave Mr. Andrews' jokes which I . . . Adore.

I, James R. Hail, bequeath to Doug Moschetti, a varsity letter. To Brian McCool, a poor flat-chested Protestant girl. To David Nicholas, the ability to dribble a basketball without going out of bounds. To Chris Jacobsen, a pair of new mafia glasses, and to Norman, a subscription to Soldier of Fortune magazine.

Upon graduation from Incline High, I leave all my chew cans for the Incline Faculty. I hope they put them to good use. For the freshmen class, I leave a part of my maturity; they will need all they can get. And last, but not least, I leave my basketball shoes, basketball and ankle braces for the Incline basketball team. They will need my shoes for speed, my ball to shoot and my braces for support because there won't be a better class than the class of '87 to cheer you on.

Being of fast times at Incline High, I leave all the coolers at the mercy of the school. I give all the good times to the Juniors, the dead lettuce to the sophomores, and all the school's chalk to the freshmen. I bequeath all my earthly belongings to the incoming seniors, which amounts to two dollars and sixty-three cents. To Erik, I leave my broken watch, but keep our friendship forever. At last, I leave my final wish upon the school, "Let Incline Rule."

To Carrie, I leave a page in the back of the book. To "the Girls," a friendship I will treasure forever. To Julie Fadden, a jumble cat dream. To Kierstan, wandering home at 5 o'clock in the morning. To Amy, my mom's bathroom to sit in forever. To Boyd, all the things I never said or did but wanted to, me, my car, my love, many great memories and many more. I knew we'd make it! And finally to my family, thanks for all your support and love - I couldn't have done it without you.

I Shannon Marie Madigan, being of somewhat sound mind and body, hereby bequeath the following to my friends. To Tara, shopping, London and pizzas at Close Up. Laura, Blue Water, "Spiffy," and Brittany. Thanks for being there. Amber, years of reminiscing. Mindi, laughing at dumb things. Tonya, years of friendship. Lisa, "Black Bat", ice cream, junkfood, scary movies and wonderful tans. Mike, I leave two of the best years at Incline High ever! Have fun!

I, Klaus Peter Johannis, thank my good friends Kevin, Erik and Cox for being such good friends, you are the best. To Kahele, I leave a shoulder to lean on. To Eric Partelow, I leave all our memories together and everlasting friendship. Finally, I wish the class of '87 the best of luck in the future.

I, Renee Carrico, being of sound mind and body, bequeath the following: To Stephanie: Cookie dough, the summer of '85 along with Dick, the theory of evolution, falling and faltering in lust, and the crack in the bed. To Lori: Pizza, swings, a real guy and the moon. To Eric P. a hot oil treatment. To Schleg, football homecoming '85, to Missy and Tonya, the happiness the kitty brought me. To Batch, casualness.

I, Amy Wertzberger, being of bizarre mind and German body, leave the following: To Alison, eternal weirdness, K-9, a sink and ten daughters. To Tonya, a non-slip backseat, a sunset, the rocks and mentos. To Missy, synchronized swinging, my van and a vengeful wish. To Tiff, a stick-up, a scumchild and pimento loaf. To Bridgett, rats casseroles and Julio, and Willie en francais. Finally, to my family, love, admiration and thanks.

I, Cathy Neve, being of physic mind and inseparable body, do hereby bequeath to my best friend, Kathy LaRock, my mom to pick on and my Reese's peanut butter cups. To Doug Sutton, I leave the memories of the good times we shared and my love for you in the years to come. To SGM I leave my "hoonga doonga" cartwheels and finally to Mrs. Andrews, I leave my nerve wracking giggles and obnoxious sneezes.

I, Tiffers, being of sound mind and infamous . . . bequeath Scumchild, banana boats, and eyebrows. To Loogey, 5:00 mornings. To Whimper, opportunities and spirit. To Kins, for all the pain I have caused you and for all we have shared, I thank you for being my friend. And to Barbie, I leave open arms and the hope that some day you will learn to accept the person you really are-the person I love and care for.

I, Eric Partelow, will my quietness and class to the freshmen, my completion of the 10th thru 12th grades to my brother, he needs it. My books and locker to whoever gets them next. A book on how to coach soccer to Mr. J. A good temper to Kevin Green, a job some day to Klaus Johans, and my memories to Incline High School.

I, Jose Miguel Mendes, leave all my things to the people below mentioned: To Mr. Buddy, I leave all my A and B tests, so he can teach how not to do mistakes in tests. To Doug Moschetti, I give my books about Portugese government, so he can learn something about the world! All my soccer clothes go to the soccer department so that the next soccer players can use it.

To my brother Jonathon, I leave three more wonderful years of high school and lots of endurance. I would like to thank my family for all their love and support and especially the Lord for helping me through everything. Thank you Amy and Lisa for your special friendship. Thank you Todd for all your love and encouragement, May God bless the classes hereafter.

To Sheryl-the difference between eating and dining, all our slogans and a lasting relationship. To Carrie Webb, a special friendship I hope will transcend time, pulled muscles from piggy back ride attempts, peanut butter wall paper and congratulations on your wedding. To Two Tone Shan, the theme "Grease," burp, paperboy at pizza hut, orange weight watchers popsicles, and dippes. To Krinklet and Kroak, "ribbit", Goodes luckes next yeares- yo love's tuyos! To Sue Greene, a special thanks for the special time and friendship we will always share.

I, Debbie Guenther, being of frustrated mind and exhausted body, do hereby bequeath my athletic abilities to some uncoordinated underclassmen. To my brother Eric, my GPA so he can graduate before the century. To Melissa, some car keys to drool over. To Steph and Rob, bathrooms, garbage juice and unlimited tanning sessions. To the gang, the BFM, may it hit Hollywood.

To Brent, success and your dreams and a special place within my heart. To Iceman, my never-ending letters. To Doug, our love letters? Finally, I would like to thank my friends (you know who you are) My closest friends, Anne, Steph, Missy, Carrie, Trace, Mrs. Henshaw, Mike and Sue, and family, I love you all and will never forget what you have all done for me.

I, Michael C. Sprinkle, being of sound mind, leave my limited athletic ability to my sister Julie, some popularity to Jay Jarcik, a football program to Pearlman. To Tim, a few more inches. To David, a few more metal cleats. To Ribbit, a better nickname. To Smallwood, a few more feet. To my mom, an AT program and to Marvin Moss, a quick retirement.

I, Brian McCool, hereby bequeath: ten dollars to Stephanie (we know what thats for), the blond 69 model listed above to Rob "dirty old man" Harris, a trip to T.J. and unlimited bro to Jimbo, a full tank and four directions. To Nicholas, lessons from a real man, to Kevin, the madman, a normal shaped head, to Tim, a rad game of D&D, to Doug, Dave and Jake a better memory of Tonya.

I, Michelle Hallen, do bequeath the following to my friends. To "most of the gang" another adventuresome year at Incline. To Weezel, I leave psychoanalysis sessions, a great birthday and a trip to Santa Barbara. To Jason, thanks for everything. To Haitti-cracker jacks and tender moments. To Scott, many more good times. To Amber and Lara, nursery school. To Melinda, memories and the future.

Being of sound mind, I leave the following: Jake, my "toy", a real man's car, Ribbs, a real summer job. J. Hail, a date with a gorgeous girl. D. Hail, a pair of athletic legs. McCool, a night with S.B. Scarlip, a ranch ticket. Purple, a case of teke. M.L., a hotel room. TnT, a real dog. To any and all upcoming soccer players, I leave my many real and yellow cards.

I Micheal Anthony Limback, being of cracked mind and body, do hereby bequeath to Laura Lokensgard our beloved rehabilitated bird, and all my love. To "K", I leave all of our wonderful arguments. To Sharelle, I leave my love.

I, Kahele Mary Beth Dunn, wishes the best in life to Jason House and my little Sis, Michele McNulty. I give them all the strength I have to continue their careers. I thank Connie Henshaw for all she has done for me. I love ya, hun! My final words . . . "If you want something bad enough, no one can take it away from you! I did it!"

I, Derrick Hamner, being of sound mind and body, hereby declare this as my last will and testament. To Stephanie Burton, I leave two mouthfuls of whipped cream to use as she sees most fit. To Doug, I leave some advice, if you do things more quietly, you will get a lot more done before the liberals start to protest. And finally, to Merrill, I say . . . don't leave things in the open on boats.

I, Tonya Logue, hereby bequeath to my best friend Missy, six long exciting years of friendship that will never be forgotten. To Kaori, an everlasting friendship and memories of American lifestyle. To Tim, all my love and understanding. To Amy, memories of the rocks, swings, and sunsets. To Matt, good grades and determination. To Jamie, my past desire to become an astronaut. To Jason, the turtles in my bathroom and a first aid kit.

I want to state that I do not hold the warden or any of the guards-excuse me-principal and teachers-responsible for the punishment I have received at Incline High. I hereby, bequeath to Troy a real car to replace your V.W. To Pete, a fight, he always seems to be looking for one.

I Christopher Harder, being of wandering mind and thrashed body, hereby bequeath my schedule of classes for the 1986-1987 school year to Victor Sundquist, who needs to use his head a little.

To the class of 1987, I leave behind all the greatest memories, the determination and ability to achieve our most difficult goals, and those special friendships which only seemed to improve throughout the years. There could never be a better class. To Pam, Monica, and Elisa, I look forward to the upcoming years, for this is just the beginning. And to CTM, I wish much luck, hoping he has finally found the best of this world.

I leave to Pete a boxing bag so he can get all his aggressions out on it instead of me. To Julie, my loving sister, my generosity and my junk that I won't take with me anyway. And to JJ Jackson, I leave another year that he can join the football team if he wants to or is so pressured. Have fun, Alright?

I, Alison Batchelor being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following: Thor-some advice, don't let your friends chew and drive. Merrill, my thanks for your friendship, support and the best hugs. Amy, my wild woman friend- the wierd unexplained, yet to be experienced and burnt popcorn. Chris Czyz, a hug from my dad. Steph, the 501 club, unforgettable adventures, the green frog and an everlasting friendship. Debbie, a collect call anytime.

To Chris McKee, I leave a full head of hair. To Brent Wuest, "Did you see the sailplane?" To Ian, the legacy of Team Rasta. To Mr. Carter, my term paper which he lost. To Mr. Campbell, the ski pictures I never took and my lab book I never did. To Flatstone turnout, my frisbees and all that was in them. To Ghandi, "Hey Bro, what it be?" To Rocky, the Charles Atlas Seal of Approval. To Brent Clifford, a life's supply of Dep.

I, Amber Willoughby, being of almost sound mind and not real sound body hereby bequeath to: Shannon- Dinner at Alexis, a Macy's charge card, money for the rides home, and endless orthodontists. Melinda, the correct pronunciation of "ask" and "desk". Lori, crooked blond ponytails, 6,000 retainers, all Daddy's clothes, and trips to school at high speeds. Trudie, all my decent clothes, my junk jewelry, two more sizes for your feet, and trips over the balcony.

I, Chris "Jake" Jacobsen, being of somewhat sound mind hereby leave the following to the class of '87: To Trussell, my deflated basketball. To Buckman, my broken skateboard. To Green, my unpaid traffic tickets. To Houston, I leave integrity. To Wimpee, my odor eaters, and finally to Doug Moshetti, I leave my treasured Hawaiian shorts-wear them with pride.

I, Pam, do hereby bequeath to Misty, my dearest and closest friend, all the Teddy bears in the world. You've been the best friend anyone could ask for and I love you lots. To my parents, I leave one "last in life" brother. To my brother, I leave alot of love. To Dawn, I leave alot of fun times in English. Thanks for picking up the attendance.

I, Kristin E. Franz, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath the following. To Lokey, endless kisses for ?, to Kibbles, the 4= Guys. To Nikki, a lifelong friendship and a million memories. To Jules, my best friend, I leave the candlestick, the song, and a million thanks for everything that you did for me. And lastly, to my family, for their loving support and especially my father, who I will love forever.

I, Kathy LaRock, being proud of my wierd mind, bequeath to Cathy and Dawn all the fun times at McDonalds. I love and thank you both for everything. To Michelle, a thanks and much love for forever helping me, to Steve and Barbie one great year and many more to come; to Steven all the happiness there is for bringing me so much; to Nicole, good luck in the future with dancing.

I, Brent Pastor, leave to Mr. Carter a student who can bribe you into a good grade on the term paper. To Andy Hamilton, I leave a real battering ram, so he no longer has to use his car as one. To Darren Telliho, a dependable car and a lifelong friendship. To Steve Pardee, you deserve your own detention room, a new uniform and students who pay attention to your parking stickers.

I, Jason Brown, being of deteriorating mind and body do leave the following: To David, a thank you for all the invitations and good times. To Eric, a lifetime supply of gin. To Brent Clifford, a picture because it lasts longer. To Mr. Carter, the memory of the worst class ever. To Kevin, a stereo loud enough to blow the windows out of his house. To Mrs. A., I leave my everpresent halo destroying influence.

Patricia Kerry

I, Angie Vincent, leave Chris Haughian a bib for her necklace. I leave you the tardy bell if you can't make it, forget it, let's have breakfast. There are too many memories to go into. To John, I leave you the happiest times of my life. I'm glad I spent them with you. I love you both.

BYE-BYE MR. CARTER

1987 SENIOR ROOM... A PLACE ALL OUR OWN!!

In lieu of the privilege of being dismissed for lunch five minutes early, the class of 1987 wanted to establish a new privilege. A seven person committee presented the idea of having a room exclusively for seniors to Mr. Rogan. With his help and cooperation, the seniors gained permission to build the room. By receiving donations from Spitzen Lumber, Incline Glass, Carpet Warehouse, and Sam Viviano, the idea of the senior room became a reality.

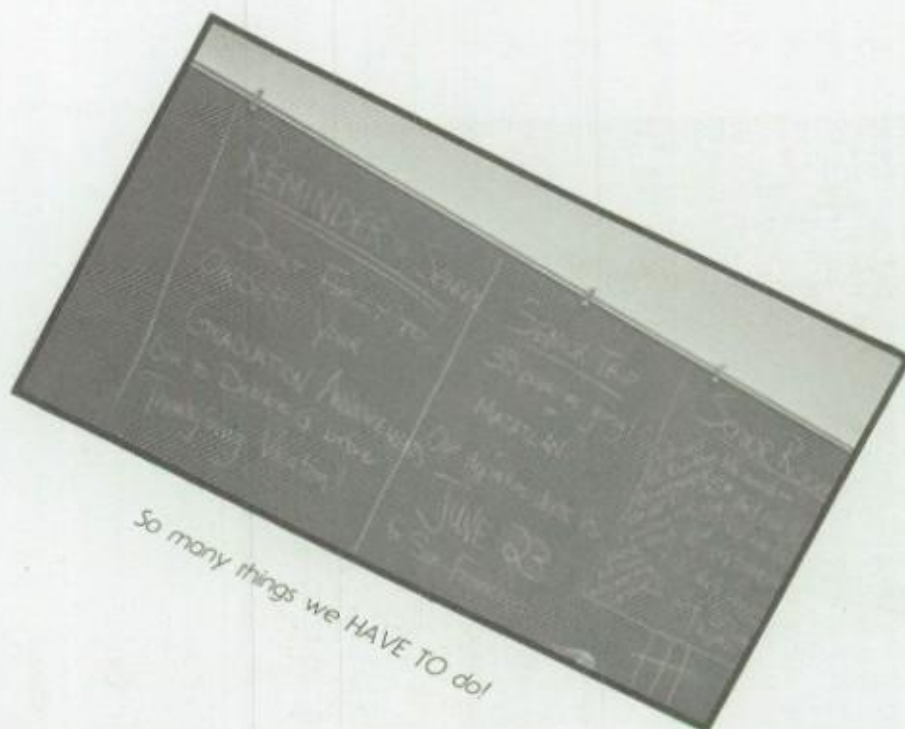

Seven members of the senior class set aside a Saturday to construct the room. Not only was the senior room created as a privilege, it was also made to establish a precedent of excellence. The Senior class hopes that the idea that one can work hard and obtain ones goals has become apparent through the construction of the senior room. The senior class encourages the future graduating classes to respect the privilege that they have gained, so that in the following years all seniors can experience this privilege. Senior Room Committee: Alison Batchelor, Stephanie Burton, Kathy LeRock, Tim Trussell, Dave Nicholas, Debbie Guenther, Anne Schlegelmilch.

Senior Room Constructors: Alison Batchelor, Stephanie Burton, Derrick Hamner, Lisa Battaglini, Sheryl Ferguson, Jennifer Nevins, Darren Telliho.

Incline High School Pep Club stands for school spirit and unity. We are a self-supporting group of students that will give a scholarship to the most deserving senior member and a $25.00 dollar prize to the member who brought their grades up most in the 1986-87 school year.

While maintaining all of the above we have fun, parties, and we support our school; to Incline High we'll always be true-true our whole lives through.

The One Big Question: Who and what are the Junior class?

As you may or may not know, the Incline High School Junior class of 88' is a bunch of bright and intelligent people. But have you ever wondered what the Juniors think of their class?

"A bunch of rowdy people who love to party", says one Junior classmate.

Paige Titus and Marc Temme show their enthusiasm? See their frowns?

Another Junior classman says, "We are family". This is shown by Carter's captives, Bridgett Kelly, Tami Frank, Shelly Donaldson, and Laura Lokensgard.

All in all, the Junior class of 1988 of Incline High School . . . to put it mildly, is AWE-SOME!

We have the image of being small and unimportant.
But, all great things start out small.

We the freshmen have the crazy, the quiet, the amusing, the intelligent, and the dreamers. It's through this balance of people that we make up the class that we are. A class of friendship and individualism. For when each adds his/her own little bit, we end up with a whole lot. A class that little by little will go straight to the top.

Justin Britt's expression reflects the startled look of many new freshmen at Incline High School. Confused by the looming warnings of one-way halls, whirlies, being stuffed into garbage cans, and huge people, they must also master the techniques of lockers.

LICENSE PLATES OFTEN DESCRIBE THE IMAGE OF THE PERSONALITIES BEHIND THE WHEEL?...

Jose Mendes is a 12th grade foreign exchange student from Portugal. He has been here since last September and is staying until July of 1987. Jose came to the United States so he could see the country and American lifestyles. He has seen New York, Chicago, Indiana, and California as well as Incline. He wants to learn more in computer science. Jose has enjoyed the parts of this country that he's visited even though cities in Portugal are much larger. Schools there too are larger, and Jose feels studies are more intense, yet he appreciates the different kind of school spirit in the states. He was most surprised that we place so much importance on the spirit and tone in our schools, and less rigid academic form. Jose has found the people here very friendly, and the only thing he misses about home is soccer.

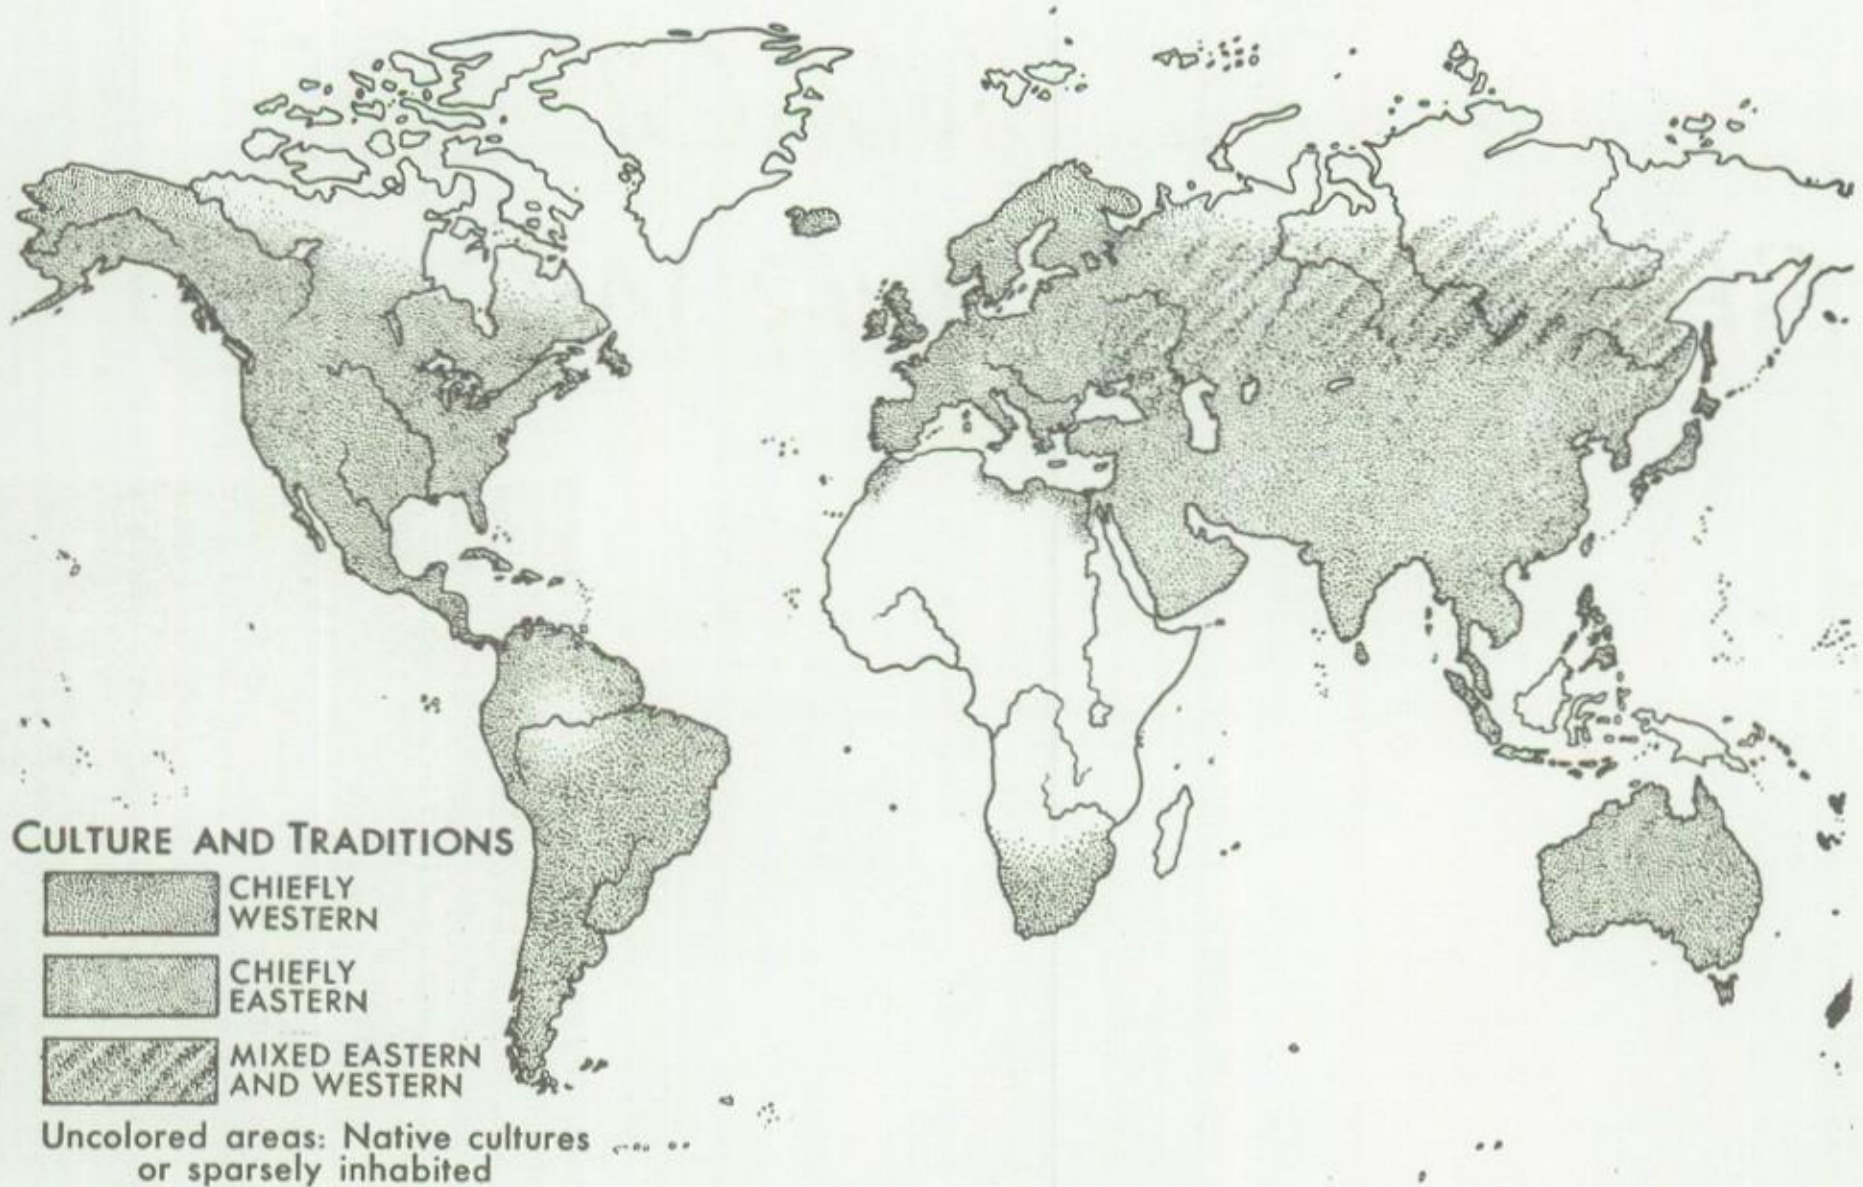

IN THE IMAGE OF SHARING OUR WORLD...

I am now living in the United States of America. In Japan, after I passed the test for becoming an exchange student, America was all I thought about. I have learned a lot of American traditions and much about lifestyles. Some surprise me, but others are the same as they are in Japan. I want to experience as much as I can while I am here in America. I will never forget my year in Incline!

John Lopez is a student from El Salvador who has joined us as an 11th grader. He has been in the United States for two years but now that he has come to Incline Village; he would like to finish school here. John came here with a 5 year passport to live with his sister and keep her company. He says the lifestyles of El Salvador and Incline are very much the same. The only differences he can see are the climate, the language and the size of the school (ours is larger). When asked what John missed the most about home he answered, "My house; I used to live in a house like the ones on Lakeshore Drive. Now, I live in an apartment with my sister." The greatest surprise John had about the United States was that he expected all of his teachers to speak Spanish because all of the teachers in El Salvador are quadlingual. Other than that though, John finds the United States a very enjoyable place to live and hopes he can remain here for a long time.

JROTC IN THE IMAGE OF LEADERSHIP

The arrival of the JROTC helicopter set off the local law enforcement officials with its unexpected arrival.

OBJECTIVES

The JROTC program is designed to benefit the cadet. The objectives are used to develop good citizenship and patriotism, help build self-reliance, leadership and responsibility and responsiveness to constituted authority and to be able to communicate effectively, both orally and in written work. Another goal is to appreciate the importance of physical fitness, and the role of the United States Army in support of national objectives.

The Color Guard introduces the festivities at most home games and assemblies with the National Anthem.

Mr. J has a dead-eye at the turkey shoot.

JROTC was in charge of this years successful Turkey shoot. The purpose of this activity was to get students involved in the Thanksgiving spirit and to earn money for JROTC. A thanks were sent out to the Hyatt Hotel and Hawkins Foundation for donating the two turkeys which were some of the prizes awarded to the winners. Mr. Preston was the over-all winner out of 100 people. Nice shooting Mr. Preston!

"Gee Dom, didn't you hear that there was a small craft advisory?" asks Chris Newel.

We caught Sgt. Major Gregory with a peaceful look attempting to train JROTC students in the art of marching. "LOOK MA! WE'RE WALKING!"

For the past three years, Incline's JROTC program has been an active participant in the CANNED FOOD DRIVE during Thanksgiving time. Mike Sprinkle was in charge of this year's collection and students' participation was nearly 100% making for a successful drive. The collected goods are distributed throughout the county . . . in our own section of it, which makes this annual project a meaningful and worthy effort for all involved.

CLIMBING THE WALLS!? No that's not a lost sailor joining in on the repelling training down the wall of our school. That's Mrs. Henshaw, who bravely made her first attempt and loved it. The branches of the armed services can be very co-operative. This activity is one our students enjoy and it helps prepare them for "bigger things to come" at Ft. Ord.

HOLD

The 1986 football season at Incline was a season of fragments: First the defensive coordinator for the varsity "mysteriously" disappeared just prior to the first game and forced some drastic coaching changes. Captains Lavatai and Wimpee sustained injuries early in the season that restricted their ability most of the year. The bionic leg Larry French's injury in the third game affected his contribution for six weeks. The junior varsity season was cancelled for lack of participants and the coach's personal responsibilities. Illness and unexcused missed practices resulted in starting lineups not necessarily representative of the talent at Incline.

Coach Pearlman's expression summarizes the feelings of team supporters during many of the games in a season of fluctuation of performance. With the collection of unpredictable difficulties, is it any wonder that Incline had little success in putting two good halves together until late in the season? When the pieces congealed, Incline defeated Fernley a firm 33 to 12.

Trying their best this year, our soccer team boys competed against league leaders such as Reno and Carson City, but played their worst matches against the teams of equal or inferior talent to their own.

The team was certainly capable of winning the majority of its games on the schedule, and lost several by only one goal. The good news is that EVERY member of the entire team scored a goal in the Varsity League. As Coach Andrew Jezycki states, "That is an unusual achievement."

"ODE TO MR. GRUBER"

At the beginning of the season,
we set our sights to win.
However, as we walked the course,
we couldn't find the pin.

We teed the ball with head held down,
time and time again.
Often though, the grass did fly,
closer to the pin.

Our clubs they numbered one through nine,
three of which are wood.
However, it seemed not matter,
they often did no good.

Everyday we'd hit the range,
striking at the ball.
Our problem soon did appear,
they rolled and did not fall.

Perhaps we had the game all wrong,
our score cards were too high.
And when we found the low score won,
our coach let out a cry.

Our leader was a young man,
at least that's what he said.
The problem was, what once was there,
no longer's on his head.

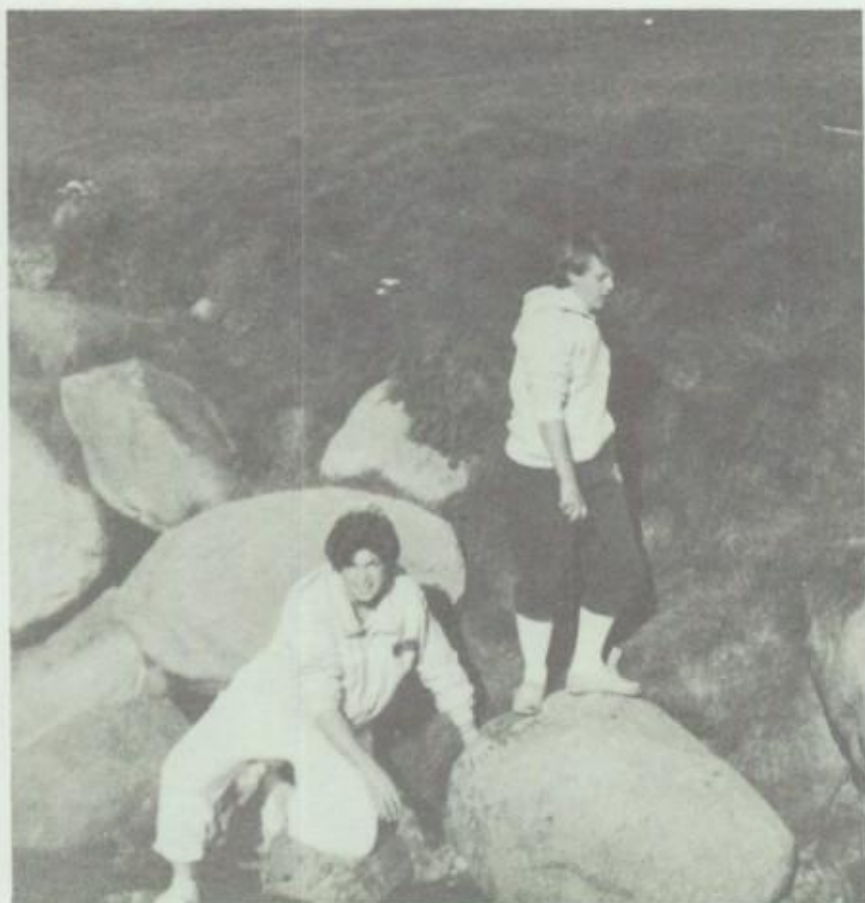

Sometimes on the golf course,
his appearance was so varied,
His hair often tinted,
with colors K-Mart carried.

The season's over and you'll retire,
and add another page.
These are gifts from all of us,
they will reverse your age.

Thank you Mr. Gruber,
for a coach of 44.
We want you to know from all of us,
you're a coach we all adore.

Jenny Stevenson

1986-87 BOYS' JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

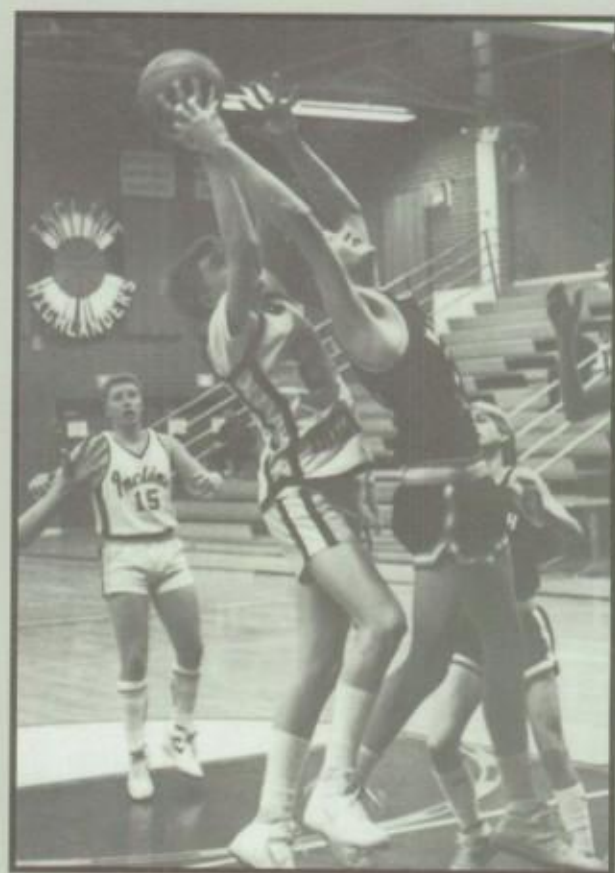

The boys' junior varsity seemed to have a rough season. They began their season with losses until the day when they defeated Whittell. Although it was a non-conference game, it let the team see light. After a long losing streak, Coach Brunhaver's promise of winning at least one conference game came about as the team defeated North Tahoe at their last home game of the season. Even though first place was next to impossible, they kept their heads up high.

The J.V. Girls Basketball season was very successful this year. They beat Whittell, South Tahoe, and Carson City in their pre-season. Their success lead them to a first place tie with Fallon after only losing a total of three games with a total of four points.

The first loss was to Fallon 31-30 and another to North Tahoe 32-31, and then unfortunately a 30-32 loss to Elko. These losses could only be explained as one too many mistakes or one too many bad calls by the referee's. Altogether, they had a great successful year and a whole lot of fun. They set out to be the best, and they came to the end with "number 1."

BOYS VARSITY B-BALL... SWISHHH

Incline has a new boys' varsity basketball coach for this season. Ron Wright came to us from South Tahoe after coaching for 5 years in Nebraska. Coach Wright is pleased to get the top hoops billing for IHS and his goal was to make Incline's previous 2-22 record a thing of the past, make the sport enjoyable for his players, and to have fun. Building a complete program, Coach Wright's active plan is to be involved in J.V. as a grooming field for his varsity program. Our regular season record of 10-15 reflects Coach Wright's positive attitude. He states our hoopsters though short in stature compared to the competition, they are long of winning attitudes and quick down the court. Our second match-up with North Tahoe boosted the team morale, and the record reflects it. The '86-'87 season for Coach Wright is condensed: "Way to go!"

"Surf's up!" Chris Newell muscles his way in.

Despite the lack of snow the Tahoe Basin has experienced this year, the ski team has managed to pull together a fun and exciting season. Although there was a large turnout before dry-land training started, as the miles became longer and the rugby games more grueling, the team began to dwindle. When the first big storm arrived, it was obvious that all its members would have to be very consistent at performing their best to maintain the League Champion title.

This year's team was lead by Robin Koerbal and Jereme Wormington who have much promise for the future. Good job team!

1987 TRACK AND FIELD

The track team started off a typical season at a meet in Fallon with 21 other teams. As the meet went on the temperature dropped, the wind increased, and the tracksters found themselves huddling and shivering in blankets and sleeping bags. Unfortunately, the meet was cancelled because of snow and the tracksters continued their season by running in the halls of the school.

The team has gained two new coaches to add the long list. Bill Devine is the new long-distance coach and Paul Heglar, from Texas A&M, spends his time coaching the pole vaulters.

The continuity is held in place by the ol' timers Bruce Campbell, Artis Brandt and Dave Hampton who are all used to frosted toes, running noses, and pulled muscles.

As the track season continues, the tracksters look forward to the state meet in Reno and try to forget about the miserable experiences of the beginning of spring.

Before Coach Ron Wright's basketball shoes cooled, he was found tackling Mt. Rose highway on a regular basis seeking solid, dry land for his golf team's basket of practice balls. Coach Wright believes that golf is the premium of the sports world — the challenge is a combination of physical skill, chess-like strategy, and Psychology 101. Any victory is both personal and group success.

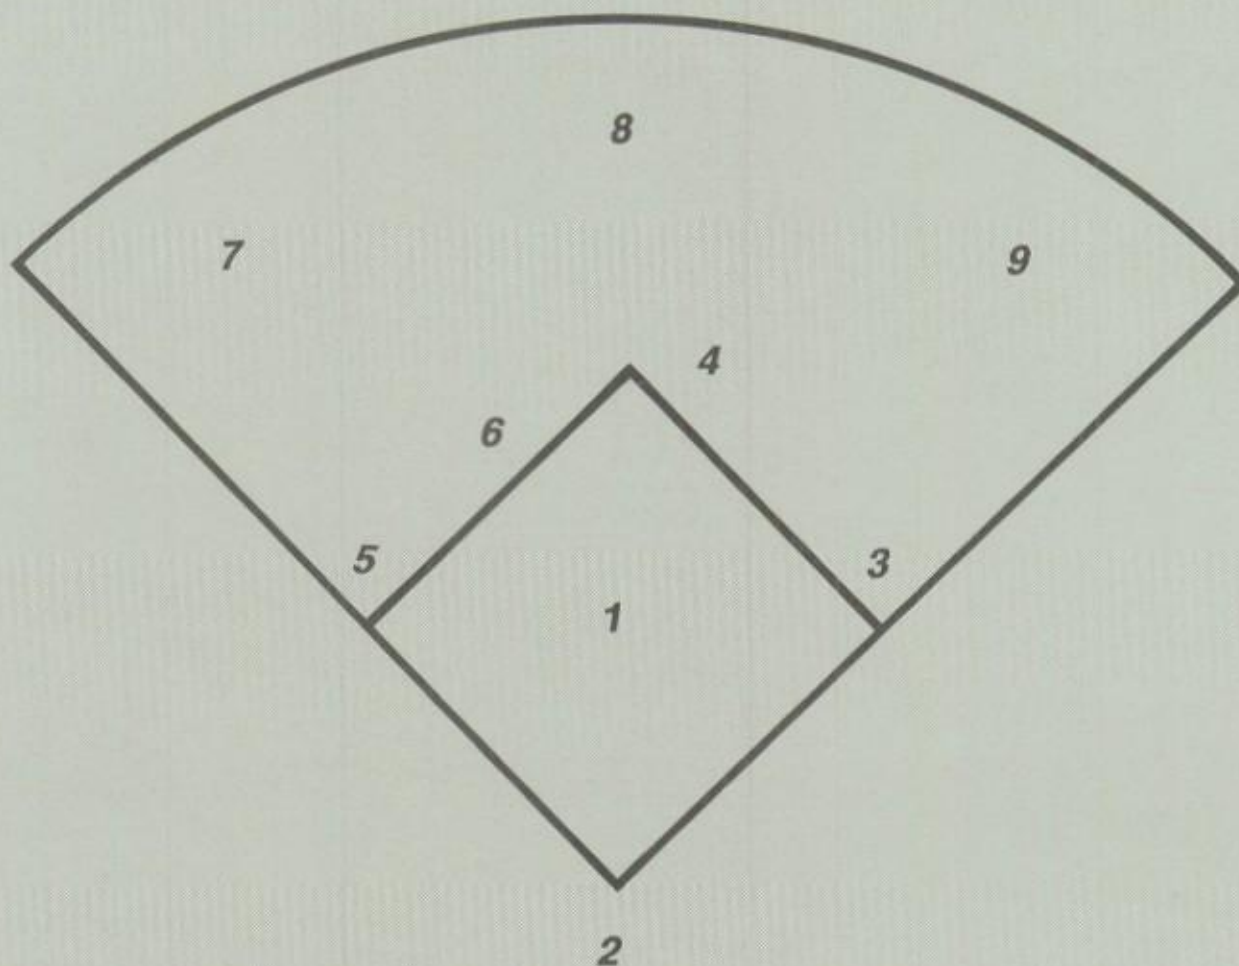

The green IHS golf bag above was a signal to all as to which players had qualified for upcoming tournaments. Unlike other sports, "starting" slots are rotated on an ongoing basis.

Who ever said
"Practice makes perfect."!?

Plus, golf is a life-time recreation project not requiring youth, speed, or weight-lifting (unless we're caddy-less). With PGA players accumulating 29 years on the circuit and prize money topping $30,000,000 for the 1987 season, being a golf team duffer might well prove to be an excellent choice for spring sports enthusiasts in the Sierras!

The Solitude of gold is often one part which players enjoy. We have the competition element without the crunching physical contact. And we get a lot of time for self-examination as we search through the rough for that little dimpled rascal we hit so far, far away!

"I hate deadlines! I like going out to get ads and going to eat "CHEZ" burgers." — Randy Herman

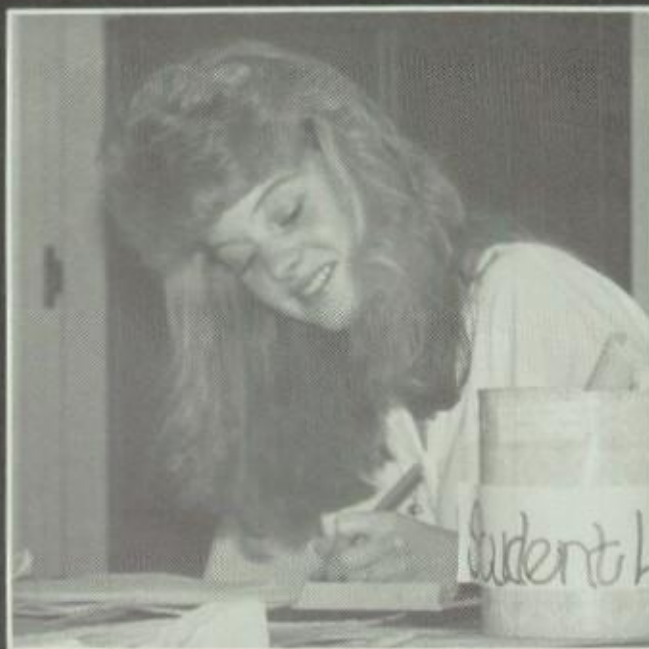

"I like working with staff members and meeting deadlines but I disliked having to wait for pictures to put in my layouts." Lisa Battaglino

From top to bottom: Boyd Golden, Kim Russell, Julie Fadden, Tyler Spillman, Lisa Battaglino, Marianne Finke, Debbie Guenther.

"I disliked doing 3R Carbons, but I liked going to eat, Oh ... I mean selling ads." — John Kidd

"I disliked it when people rearranged my layouts and pictures not being in on time, but I liked accomplishing my goals." — Carrie Webb

Many students may think that yearbook is a class to kick back and earn an easy "A". Well, this year the entire staff will disagree immensely.

In the history of Incline High School, the yearbook staff has encountered many problems which delayed its publication. This year your 1986-87 staff has managed to meet every deadline without any major complications. Through dedication, organization and hard work, they have worked diligently to create a prize-winning book.

"I hate deadlines, bunk grades and lame substitute teachers, but I liked having stuff in on time, cool substitute teachers, cool grades, off-campus passes and the biggest little woman in the world-Hench." — Tyler Spillman

"Such an uplifting, spiritual experience. Positive Karma, ya know?" — Amy Brugman

Jenni demonstrates her typing talents

This group started from minus zero and became a skillful publishing team. They learned by being told "what" to do, but not "how". A creative, successful yearbook was the result, plus a well-deserved sense of pride. Most of all — it was FUN.

Yearbook is not an easy class, rather one that requires hard work and individuals willing to do various jobs such as: drawing, writing, interviewing, typing, photographing, organizing, selling ads, but most of all, turning work in on time. To be a part of this yearbook was very rewarding and we recommend this class to everyone. Good luck to next year's staff. May you continue our success and good times.

"I didn't like the irresponsibility of not making deadlines by some people. I liked the creativity of this staff in order to make this book great." — Mindi Hollander, Assistant Editor

"I hated deadlines and losing arguments with Mrs. Henshaw, but the best thing about this class is that I got a say about my senior yearbook." — Debbie Guenther, Editor

"I hated the confusion and frustration of dead lines. I liked Hensch, getting back excellent proofs of the best yearbook ever. I also hated John and Randy going to eat without us. Thanks guys!" — Julie Fadden

"The best thing is the thought of being able to help make a successful book. The worst thing was always trying to get Mrs. Henshaw's attention and help." — Marianne Finke

"The best thing was the staff itself, for we had just the right combination of people to make this the best yearbook ever. The worst thing was the pressure and bad moods that always came with the deadlines." — Kim Russell is never quite the same for any of us.

Neil Betterton and Mr. Roger Dauffenbach both display an element crucial to learning... being INVOLVED. Neil is in his regular class, and Mr. D. is a guest student examining a "pop psychology" test at Open House. Senior Sean Hebel concentrates on finger control at the keyboard of one of the business department's thirty new Panasonic typewriters. Now the typing classes suffer from considerably less noise pollution!

Darcei Spear and Sarah Kirby "hit the books" while being surrounded by these same tools in the library. Sharp objects and stacking sticks keep Sean Price relatively alert first period. The faces of Micki Hamele, Bridget Brown, and Kahele Dunn show clearly that television sets and videos can be serious teaching tools. The school's new satellite system will bring a tremendous variety of resources to our students.

Mr. Rogan our new principal, moved here from San Diego. While living there for 12 years, he was the principal of Oak Crest and Diegueño Junior High Schools. His decision to move to Incline was influenced by the challenge of being principal for Incline High School. He also loves to ski and enjoys the beautiful scenery of Lake Tahoe. He says the image the people of this school and town produce is one of care, friendship, intelligence, fun, and activeness. Mr. Rogan's goal for the upcoming years at Incline is simply "to make this High School the best it can be". He believes that with the effort of the student body and faculty it can be accomplished. Welcome to Incline Mr. Rogan!

"Turkey Trot, what do they mean by that?" Pat Rogan discovered very quickly that early morning jogging held a "black ice" hazard!

My influences are Confucius for posing appropriate questions, and Winston Churchill for taking a strong position, inspiring others to greater heights to fulfill their promise.

A pensive dignified posture reveals Mr. Jezycki in his office. Mr. J plays two roles at this school. The role of an educator, yet at the same time the role of a friend. He has supported our school in many ways and has taught students valuable lessons which they will never forget. Mr. J has coached the soccer teams for many years, was responsible for the USF program that offered masters degrees to teachers in Incline, and he has provided our ever so popular detention program! I.H.S. would like to thank Mr. Jezycki for everything!

MRS. ANDREWS GOES TO WASHINGTON . . .

1986 Presidential Award for Excellence in Mathematics Teaching

"If you don't know Mrs. Andrews, you should get to know her. She makes math so much fun." That quote from a student may partly explain why Byllie Andrews, a teacher at Incline High School for ten years, was among the few to be honored at the national level for being an example of excellence in the profession. This Presidential Award brought with it a trip to Washington, D.C. for Byllie and her family, and resulted in IHS receiving a $5,000 Grant to be used for improvement of the mathematics department. An awards ceremony included the head of the National Science Foundation and William J. Bennett, Secretary of Education.

We are proud to have Mrs. Andrews at Incline High School and feel it only appropriate that a person in the teaching profession receive recognition at the national level. After all, teachers provide the care and training of our nation's most valuable resource. CONGRATULATIONS, MRS. ANDREWS!!

Mrs. Andrews visits the State Department Building and the White House in style, but we feel the intensity of expression in the photo above reflects her dedication to learning. Always available for extra help after school and adviser of the National Honor Society, we all are most familiar with the Mrs. Andrews seen below in her classroom.

INFLUENCES . . .

Artis Brandt

My high school gym teacher was the one person to "Light my Fire" with teaching p.e. As far as play . . . it had to be the Beach Boys! The songs of the '60's and the outdoors feeling got me going! Sun-Surf-and Men!

Jane Maxfield

Two special people have provided an image by which I live, teach, and play. Robert and Marguerite Maxfield. Through their loving, powerful influence, I learned to appreciate and value education and to explore my independence and creativity.

Bruce Campbell

The images of Felix Unger and Charlie Brown give me strength, hope, and truth. When life seems confusing and unfairly harsh, Charlie Brown's ability to survive gives me the strength and vitality to one more time say "RATS".

Jerry Pearlman

"I find in myself, and still find, an instinct toward the higher, or, as it is named, spiritual life, as do most men, and another toward a primitive rank and savage one, and I reverence them both. I love the wild not less than the good." - H.D. Thoreau

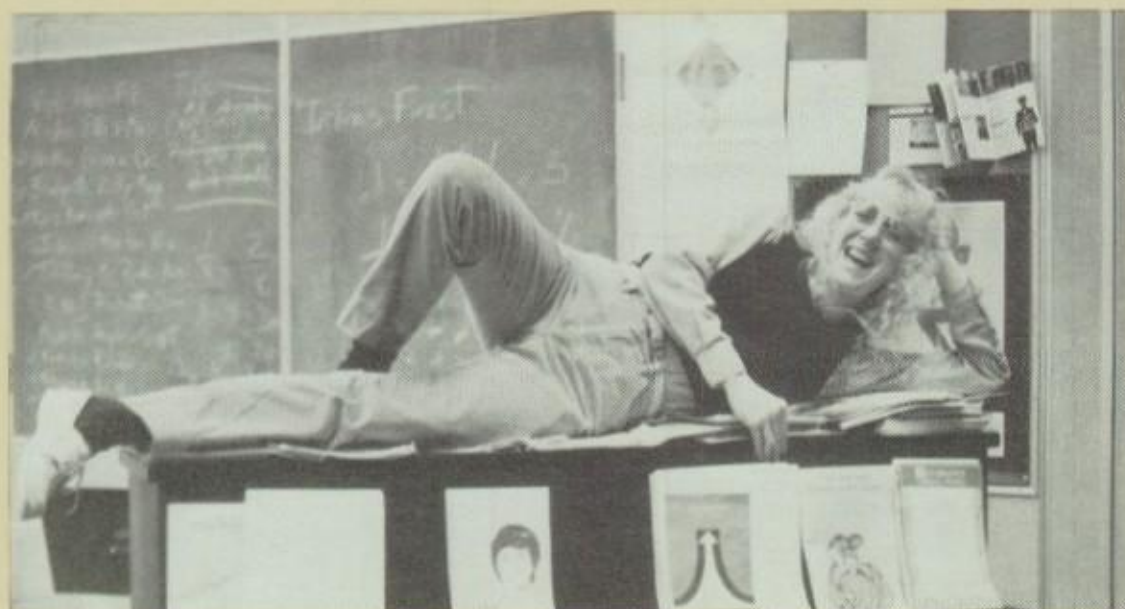

Ann Clark

Edgar Cayce and Le Petit Prince

Ed Coppin

My mother for educating me as she did, and my father who helped me to be a hard worker.

Relaxing on a good note!

Martha Damon

David Seiler, my college music instructor, told me that I could be as successful in music as I wanted to be. He helped give me the confidence to succeed. My mother was the strongest woman in my life. Peter Pan keeps me young! "I won't grow up!"

Terry Gregory

Teddy Roosevelt because he was a brave man who spoke up for what he believed in.

WE ASKED, "WHO HAS INFLUENCED THE MANNER IN WHICH YOU TEACH, WORK, OR PLAY?"

Cathy Oviatt

Kids were my biggest motivation to enter the profession. My friend Rick Troster probably influenced me most to carry my interest in the environment to the classroom.

John Preston

Lee Wulff, Napoleon Bonaparte, James Madison, Jesus of Nazareth, Machiavelli, and my wife Peggy.

Paul Gruber

It was dear old dad. He is stubborn and so is his son. Whenever he worked, he worked hard to get the best results. That is why I'm such a perfect person. As for play, it was my rebellion against his authority that taught me to play hard.

Connie Henshaw

H. Tecumseh Cloin & Dr. Dyche introduced me to the fascination of learning and the appreciation of intellectual variety. Twain, Emerson, and Thoreau let me see mankind's humorous compulsion to complicate each human endeavor. A good heart is a better guide than a distorted conscience.

Larry Rumball

My life has been patterned around two people. Ted Frimiller, who was my high school J.V. football coach, taught me from the "old school" in which when something was wrong, you were told; when you did something right, you were loved. Second, my father who was ever so supportive of my athletic endeavors, as well as my educational efforts.

Sheila Smith

My father, Elizabeth Cody Stanton, Mr. Bugg, my college English teacher, and Antonio Vivaldi.

Marilee Lessing

Katherine Hepburn because she is her own person.

Pete Brunhaver

Hank Surnam, and General George Patton

MASTERS IN EDUCATION...

INCLINE STAFFERS PURSUE PERSONAL EXCELLENCE

The staff of Incline High demonstrated its dedication to continuing education by enrolling in an advanced degree program sponsored by the University of San Francisco. Due to the efforts of Mr. Andrew Jezycki, IHS Vice-Principal, the USF classes were taught in Incline and Kings Beach. USF professors enjoyed the time spent at Lake Tahoe and praised the professionalism of the program. At the end of one year, a degree in educational administration was earned by most of the participants. This program was a successful part of the USF extended degree program that has been instituted in communities throughout California. This was the first time that USF had crossed the border into Nevada, but it is to the credit of USF that they are considering the problems that exist when it is difficult to travel to a major university. The dedication and commitment of our IHS faculty members who completed this program is another example of the IMAGE OF EXCELLENCE!

Do you think there's any resemblance?

Sue Greene

I have been influenced for better or worse by every high school teacher I ever had.

Lynn Ossolinski

Dale & Nolan Roberts, (my parents) Pat Holt (Book editor, San Francisco Chronicle), Ayn Rand (favorite writer).

John Andrews

I enjoy expanding my knowledge of the universe, and sharing that knowledge. I feel fortunate that society is willing to pay me for my enjoyment of teaching. My students would be equally fortunate were society willing to pay them for their enjoyment of learning!

Byllie Andrews

Jane Fonda- because of her attitude toward health, exercise, and growing old. Madame Curie- because she was one of the first women taken seriously as an intellect.

Bill Ossolinski

My high school coach, Bill Moge for whom I had the opportunity to play and to coach. Paul "Bear" Bryant who taught three important values: one, the value of worth; two, the value of sound preparations; three, the value of giving and sacrificing in order to do well. Another person who has influenced my life is Lee Wolf a famous fly fisherman who is a great teacher in the sport of fly fishing.

Eyda McNulty.

Madame de Pompadour has influenced my life, since seeing a portrait of her. I felt a familiarity about her. I sensed it was not coincidence that the love I have for art, dance, music, and literature was the same as hers. Pompadour has deeply influenced my tastes and loves in this life.

Rich Carter

Jean Coppin

Jody Smallwood

I dare not offend those who have provided images for my growth, for I am the source document for the ability to live backwards; I taught Merlin all he knew. Old Weird Harold, mom's dad, taught me truth, justice and cantankerous rebellion, together with the appropriate vocabulary for effective expression. Mark Twain & H.L. Menken, gave me appreciation & respect for the subtleties of humor and the power of language. Peter the Great & Dr. Suess represent my thirst for control and to create the most unorthodox unsuccessful methods possible.

I teach in the image that I create each day. J.D.C., John Houseman, Mike Ditka, Niccolo Machiavelli, and Joe Paterno.

Jason, J.J., and Jake- they are warm, cuddly, loyal, and they never talk back!

First, you must turn it on!

Lost in the shelves of the library . . . never to be seen again.

Karen Highwood

My son Harry, because I would have been a bum if I hadn't come to work to support him.

Thalia Routsis

My father influenced me because he always expected and assumed that I'd do my best.

Jerrie Marson

My input on influential people are: my mother, Leo Buscaglia, and my close friend Jeanne H.

Steve Pardee

A few people that I admire are: Leonardo da Vinci, Thomas Jefferson, Einstein, John Steinbeck, and Paul McCartney. I like to think these people were self-actualized and eventually came close to maximizing their potential. This is what I aspire to. The image I try to fulfill in my job here is one of a big brother or uncle who is firm, fair, and friendly. I try to be a positive influence on the school and on people even though many times I must deal in the negative.

We may not see these people often, but they are the reason IHS has a reputation of excellence for building and grounds maintenance. Imagine what would happen if there was no one to open our stuck lockers or refill the Pepsi machine! What if we had to empty the trash cans in every room every day?

In snowy winter Dan Frederickson, head custodian, comes up the mountain from his home in Carson City at 2:30 or 3:00 a.m. and drives each bus route. His decision relays those magic words, "Incline Schools closed." It's not until June that we appreciate how seldom that announcement was heard when we get to see North Tahoe and Truckee in class while we're "beaching it."

Yo! What's

Student life at Incline is a different experience for everyone. Some find life in a small school a drag, while others are satisfied with it. But one thing is for sure, a small school definitely offers a personal atmosphere, where friends are made, and acquaintances pass by, and life just kind of cruises along.

HAPPENING

WITH HONOR AS OUR IMAGE

Honor's Society was originated 13 years ago by Mr. Robinson and Mr. Stevens to give recognition to students who are excelling academically. Later, the Association of Secondary School Principals started the national organization for other schools as well.

In order to qualify for Honor's Society, one must obtain a 3.3 over all grade point average, have plenty of school spirit, and be a person of character, showing leadership and pride in their school.

This year Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Smallwood were the advisors, and there were about 25 students who participated.

INCLINE'S HONORABLE SCULPTOR

Such concentration

Incline High School was pleased to have David H. Lemon visit them as he displayed his beautiful and very talented works of art.

Mr. Lemon lives in Tahoe Vista and is a professional sculptor. He displays his fine works at the Sierra Gallery in the Boatworks mall in Tahoe City, and his works of art have been displayed in art shows as well.

He started out in his high school ceramics class but later found that he liked sculpting better so he taught himself and is now self employed. He has been sculpting for the past 20 years now doing mostly western pieces.

"LITTLE THEATER" . . . THE ASSEMBLY SCENE

A new system for assembly presentations was introduced this year in the form of "forum". Programs were held third and fourth periods and individual teachers decided whether or not their classes could attend. This policy allowed for flexibility for all involved.

Miss Love plans on performing either "Meet Me in St. Louis", or "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" in the future. She feels that this years drama class has good, strong actors who are improving daily. She says, "Quality takes time, and we're getting there". Her main goals for the remaining year are to establish fluidity, focus, concentration, enunciation, and clarity. As she put it, "Theater is alive, stop and it dies".

MURDER

ON THE NILE! In October of the fall semester, the seniors decided that they wanted to present a play as one of the activities of their senior year. They invited the students, faculty, parents, and community to sail through Egypt with them to solve Agatha Christie's MURDER ON THE NILE. This rousing production, almost swamped a number of times, was finally docked! On Monday, January 26, 1987 we embarked on our first of three performances. With exceptional ease, we managed to "murder" two of our cast members each night with dispatch and in keeping with Ms. Christie's plot. The murders were solved . . . the murderers apprehended and a tidy profit from our voyage was made! These funds helped the class of '87 finance an all color senior section in the yearbook.

J.R.O.T.C. INSPECTION

This year's inspection by the Department of Army capped off a very successful first semester for the Highlander JROTC. The inspection consists of a briefing by the Battalion Commander, Cadet/LTC Michael C. Sprinkle and his staff, and an inspection in ranks where each cadet is questioned on subjects. They were taught in class and finally the pass and review. The entire Battalion marches around the gym and as each unit passes by the reviewing officer, they are judged by the inspector. The Highlanders received accolades in every area. Although the point value will not be received for several weeks, no deficiencies were received and the Highlanders will again receive the very prestigious "Honor Unit with Distinction". This is the first year for Major Pete Brunhaver who is very pleased and proud of the Highlander JROTC unit which this year topped all previous years with an enrollment of 85 cadets. The high percentage of JROTC students, who are active in other school activities including Student Body Officers and members of National Honor Society, make this a quality program filled with cadets who have a bright future awaiting them.

LEADERS

HYATT ADOPTION...

Mr. Rogan started the nation-wide program "Adopt a School" this year in our school. This program gives the opportunity for the business community to help the school community. In our case, the Hyatt has become Incline High School's business associate. The Hyatt will be helping us in the future years by providing a scholarship, buying magazines for the library, donating furniture for the teachers' lounge and providing a dinner for two for our "Teachers of the Month".

The Hyatt is also going to let us use their facilities when necessary to help with Career Day. Thank you Hyatt for all the time and dedication given Incline High School. We look forward to the years to come with the Hyatt as our business associate.

THE OLD PLACE JUST WON'T

I wish to congratulate you on your success of the last four years. You have achieved many goals as a class, and I hope as individuals you will continue to achieve your goals in the future.

Alright Man! We're out of here. Congrats to team rasta and Mindi. Later Guys, Ty?

Thanks for a great four years with you. You are some of the brightest, most energetic, and creative students we have had here at Incline High. Steve R. Pardee

Hey Polly Passionate-1987 is finally here! Thank you so much for your kind and loving friendship. May your marriage be filled with peace and happiness. Love Me AND Yo too tan-we made it! Macy's will never be the same. Thank you for being there and all those hearty meals. May we meet again "Somewhere in Time". Love, Bat

BE THE SAME WITHOUT YOU . . .

*The class of 87 has been one in a million!
We will miss each and everyone of you.
J. Coppin*

*With the few seniors I was able to work with in yearbook and going through the year with the class of '87 I can see you all are very determined and high spirited.
I am sure if you keep these characteristics you will go far. Good Luck, Kim*

*Missy, Anne and Steph. The name friend is common, but faith in friendship is rare.
Your friendships will always be remembered and treasured, good-luck and farewell for now! Debbie Guenther*

*(You know who you are and who I am)
Dale, I know we've had our little "tiffs", and of course you forgot what they were about, but we came through them. Mom and Dad, I hope you have a miserable time in Hawaii without your class. Mom and Dale, I owe ya one. Chip*

What is it that you wanted to learn from teachings and teachers, and although we taught you much, what was it that we did not teach you? L.J.P.

To stormy days, to happy days, to loving days: yet our friendship has persevered. I thank you for the opportunity of sharing my life with you. Love, Larry Rumball

*Congratulations to three very special people: My one and only favorite brother,
John. My best friends Tanya and Pete.
You all mean so very much to me and I'll miss having your company at school next year. Take care, I Love You All, Juls*

Oh, yes, the Class of '87 . . . I vaguely remember THAT bunch! Actually, you little rutabagas, thanks "alot" for the most active 6th English class in the history of public education. Without exception, I enjoyed every day with you all. Have a nice life!

Regards, The Hench

Merely one Fleeting Physical image to state that we have travelled many roads at IHS together . . . yet apart.

FOOTPRINTS . . .

*One night I had a dream.
I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord.
And across the sky flashed scenes from my life.
For each scene, I noticed two sets of footprints in the sand.
One set belonged to me, and the other to the Lord.*

*When the last scene of my life flashed before us,
I looked back at the footprints in the sand.
I noticed that many times along the path of life,
there was only one set of footprints.
I also noticed that it happened at the very lowest and saddest times in my life.*

*This really bothered me and I questioned the Lord about it.
"Lord, You said that once I decided to follow You,
You would walk with me all the way.
But I noticed that during the most troublesome times in my life,
there is only one set of footprints.
I don't understand why in times when I needed You most,
You should leave me."*

*The Lord replied, "My precious, precious child,
I love you and would never leave you.
During your times of trial and suffering,
when you saw only one set of footprints,
it was then that I carried you."*

We move forward creating and discovering paths of life physically far apart . . . yet we all remain together.

' . . . and whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the Universe is unfolding as it should' . . .
